Reducing cyber risk with Softcat's

SECURITY PROGRAMME

Our vision is to help you build, implement and maintain an ongoing programme to reduce cyber risk in a way that's right for your business. Our Commercial Assessment Service is part of a range of services we've developed to help you succeed in an ever-changing landscape.

What is the Security Programme Leadership?

Softcat's Security Programme Leadership enables your organisation to achieve tangible security goals, with an expert consultancy support network made available to you throughout your security programme.

How does it work?

Our security consultancy team will firstly develop a bespoke security improvement plan, understanding your organisational objectives and aspirations, as well as your team internally. The plan will be broken down into achievable chunks within defined stages, and a bespoke team of Softcat security experts, across multiple disciplines will be made available to you on an adhoc basis to provide support and enable you to actualise your objectives.

KEY FACTS

- Simple – an improvement plan is built for you
- Structured – defined phases to track progress
- Immediate Value – see how you will achieve objectives on day 1
- Scaled Support – as hands on as you need, without hindering
- Evidenced Programme – demonstrate each step taken in your programme

What are the benefits?

Assigned Security Leadership

Obtain industry leading security leadership without the headache of recruitment. In an industry where finding and retaining security leadership can be a challenge, your programme will ensure you have access to trusted experts as you require, as well as regular involvement with specific programme steps.

Bespoke Programme

Whether you're looking to get every certification under the sun or looking to consolidate security administration in order to increase agility, we'll take the time to understand what your organisation wants to achieve, and build a bespoke plan to get you there.

Dynamic Support

As part of your programme you gain the support of a team of individuals, with skills ranging from executive leadership and programme management, to the technical experts to build security tooling and governance processes that really work.

Intelligent Progress

Whilst a bespoke programme will enable you to build a plan, the team will still be on hand for those occasions where circumstances require the plan to pivot. Whether surprise obstacles, or new assessment insights, the team will swivel your support as and when you require.

Less Administrative Overhead

All the traditional headaches of programme management are taken away, as our team operate, track, and amend the programme to provide a continuous audit trail of actions taken, ensuring at the end of the engagement, we can evidence the success of your programme.
